Partnerships Events

AWS Money 20/20

Thank you AWS for the invitation to participate in Money 20/20 event in Bangkok, where we delved into the transformative power of AI-enabled cores in partnership with AWS and KMS. It was a good sharing session where industry experts on the ground shared real experiences from the banking sector on what helps boost competitiveness and enhance operational efficiency while mitigating risks. Our roundtable discussions were rich with insights, especially on how hybrid cloud can harness GEN AI capabilities with a solid core, integrating structured and unstructured data, and fine-tuning Large Language Models are pivotal steps in this journey. We are thrilled to share further possibilities in the hybrid cloud and cloudlink!

Insurtech Insights Hong Kong

Our CEO, Peter Miller of Fermion Group, recently took part in an in-depth investigation at Insurtech Insights Hong Kong into the critical role that technology is playing in transforming the insurance distribution landscape throughout Southeast Asia. He addressed the topic of how chances for ground-breaking innovations in insurance products are created by technological improvements exploring a glimpse into the future of the industry.
